

Display Furniture

Plinths & Showcases

Display plinths and cases can be custom made in a wide range of materials and finishes and styles according to the look you require for your exhibit. We have designs that can be free standing, wall or floor mounted. Perspex Hoods protect content if required.

Showcase furniture

Devices such as lift boxes, dress panels, and label rails are examples of custom showcase furniture we supply, and careful care is taken to ensure the correct materials and paints are used in their fabrication. If the long term condition of your artwork or artifact is important when on display, it is preferable that certain construction materials and finishes are isolated from the collection, or not used at all. The standard materials and finishes used in cabinet making are often unsuitable as off gassing from certain paints and wood product can be detrimental to the condition of museum objects. Off gassing of such materials in an enclosed space like a showcase can cause irreparable damage, and Pod fabricates all our display furniture from high grade plywood or zero emission MDF to ensure every effort is made to preserve the condition of your collection
